Since 2011, DJ Bobby Hash has stormed through the state of Virginia. With his energetic mixing style and broad knowledge of music he has established a brand that sees him working well over 150 gigs a year.

"I've never considered myself caged to a single genre," states Hash. "By doing so I would eliminate people from the party. When I spin, I want it to be about everyone coming together to have a good time. Leave the real world, troubles, dramas, and stresses at the door. The club is the ultimate rejuvenator and that makes what I do all the more fun – I'm breathing life as much into them [club patrons] as they are into me."

From humble beginnings in the small-town college bar circuit, Hash has taken his talents all over the mid-atlantic region spinning at events such as Firefly Music Festival, co-headlining the opening party for Duke University's annual LDOC event headlined by T-Pain and Jeremih, placing runner-up at Snowshoe Mountain's Balhooter Spring Break Battle of the DJs, headlining and being apart of many large-scale events at Clarendon Ballroom in Arlington, VA, co-headlining National Zoo's annual "Night of the Living Zoo" event, working with many PRIDE celebrities and more.

With a record of success that allows him to serve from Charlotte, NC to the DMV metro areas - the future holds a lot for this DJ, producer, remixer, and club patron. A radio show? New remixes?
